Skiffes Creek to Yorktown 115 kV Rebuild Project

AT DOMINION ENERGY, we are committed to working safely and courteously in your neighborhood. You are receiving this postcard because we are currently preparing to rebuild two 115 kV electric transmission lines between our Skiffes Creek and Yorktown substations in James City County and Yorktown, Virginia. The structures and related components are at the end of their service life and need to be replaced. We plan to rebuild the transmission lines and structures in this 13.64-mile corridor to current electrical safety standards.

Beginning late May 2020 through the end of June 2020, you will see our crews and contractors accessing the right of way to begin archaeological surveying activities in and around our Skiffes Creek Substation. These activities include pedestrian surveying, systematic shovel testing at 50-foot intervals, metal detector surveying within battlefield boundaries and photo documentation. We do not anticipate any interruptions to your electric service during this time.

Construction will begin after all necessary permits and approvals are received. Currently, we anticipate construction to begin early 2021. We will continue to keep you updated as activities progress.

We are working to minimize the impact of this project. In addition, we want to inform you that in the wake of ongoing public health concerns from the spread of the coronavirus, we are mindful of our activities and maintaining property owner interactions with the appropriate social distancing. The work we do is integral to maintaining grid reliability and our crews will continue to perform work as needed to provide reliable energy.

Thank you for your understanding and patience as we work to complete this important project.

EXECUTIVE INSIGHT BRIEF

May 29, 2020

TOP STORIES

Trump signs order targeting social media firms' legal protections

President Trump signed an executive order Thursday aimed at increasing the ability of the government to regulate social media platforms, a marked escalation of his lengthy feud with Silicon Valley over allegations of anti-conservative bias.

The brunt of the order is focused on Section 230 of the Communications Decency Act, a 1996 law that gives platforms legal immunity for content posted by third-party users while also giving them cover to make good-faith efforts to moderate their platforms.

Trump's order directs an agency within the Commerce Department to file a petition with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to clarify the scope of Section 230, a proposition that has already drawn rebukes from the two Democratic members of the five-person commission.

Governor Activates National Guard Over George Floyd Protests

MINNEAPOLIS—Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz sent in the National Guard as demonstrators clashed with police for a third straight day to protest the death of George Floyd, a black man who died after a white officer pinned him to the ground with a knee on his neck in an incident captured on video.

Minneapolis Mayor Jacob Frey, who has called for the police officers involved in the incident to be criminally charged, had requested the assistance.

The Pentagon has spent 23% of its COVID-19 response funds. Congress is asking why not more.

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon has spent less than a quarter of the \$10.6 billion Congress gave it in March to protect military personnel and marshal American industry to procure face masks, ventilators and other products hospitals need in their fight against the coronavirus.

Citing the Trump administration's most recent reports to Congress, Democratic senators say the Pentagon has placed on contract 23 percent of the funds it was provided nine weeks ago as part of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act of 2020. It's the latest criticism in a sharp back and forth between congressional Democrats and the Pentagon over the latter's response to the global pandemic.

As the nation surpassed 100,000 deaths from COVID-19, nine Senate Democrats wrote to Defense Secretary Mark Esper on Thursday, calling for him to provide Congress with a spending plan for the remaining funds. Defense Appropriations Subcommittee Vice Chairman Dick Durbin, D-Ill., led the letter, which was obtained by Defense News.

U.S. senators offer bill to prepare for the next pandemic

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - U.S. senators offered a bipartisan \$3 billion plan on Thursday to prepare for the next global health crisis, putting a premium on fighting disease outbreaks and pandemics like COVID-19.

In a departure from partisan divisions over the novel coronavirus, Senator Jim Risch, Republican chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Democratic committee members Chris Murphy and Ben Cardin introduced the bill, with high hopes that much of it would eventually become law.

Kuwait wants to spend over $1.4 billion on Patriot upgrades

WASHINGTON – The U.S. State Department has OK'd a trio of packages to update Kuwait's Patriot missile defense systems, with a combined potential price tag of $1.425 billion.

The three packages, announced on the website of the U.S. Defense Security Cooperation Agency on Thursday, include $425 million for sustainment and technical assistance, $200 million for a repair and return program, and $800 million for 84 Patriot Advanced Capability (PAC-3) missile segment enhancements.

DSCA notifications are not final sales; if cleared by Congress, Kuwait will then enter negotiations over the package, during which quantities and costs can shift.

Taliban in Kabul to discuss prisoner releases under U.S. peace deal

Later on Thursday, Shaheen tweeted that the Taliban released another 80 Afghan soldiers and government officials from their jails in northern Baghlan and Kunduz provinces, bringing to 347 the number of captives freed so far by the Taliban. With the release of hundreds of Taliban on Tuesday, the government has freed 2,000 insurgents.

The prisoner release is part of a deal signed by the United States and the Taliban in late February, designed to bring peace to Afghanistan and allow American soldiers to return home, ending America's longest military engagement.

Building a better boot camp: How to make Marines during a pandemic, and beyond Picture Marine Corps boot camp. You probably see a huge drill instructor screaming directly into the face of a determined young recruit. Well, all that's on hold for now.

Roughly 2,000 new recruits have passed through Marine Corps Recruit Depot Parris Island, South Carolina, since the beginning of the coronavirus pandemic, and their experiences have looked quite different compared to those who came before them.

After an uptick in COVID-19 cases during March first forced social distancing aboard the base, there have been a lot of changes: Training companies have been at anywhere from 50 to 75-percent capacity, with open bay sleeping areas measured to an exact six feet between every bunk; trainees and cadre are keeping their distance both inside facilities as well as outside, and wearing masks wherever they can't stay apart; and a two-week quarantine period prior to the start of practical training has turned into something of an extended study and acclimation session.
